Scholarly Communication Institute 2014

Tweets and commentary from the 2014 Scholarly Communication Institute in Chapel Hill, NC - trianglesci.org

On the importance of place and time: where we'll be, and what we'll be doing at SCI in November

When we first started planning for this new iteration of the Scholarly Communication Institute, a model that was mentioned several times was the Dagstuhl Seminars. Schloss Dagstuhl (Dagstuhl Castle) is an academic research center in the German countryside, and every year it hosts a series of seminars on informatics, where researchers from around the world gather...
